Comment. The departure to Berlin of major elements of the 12th Gds Tank

Div on 17 June was repeatedly reported.

. The weapons seen with the troops in the individual installations correspond with equipment assigned to the units believed stationed in the installations. The arrival by rail of elements of the division from the direction of Berlin on 11 and 12 July confirms a report on transportation according to which seven troop trains went from Buch to Neuruppin between 11 and 13 July. The unit entrained on 13 July probably belonged to the 226th Mort Regt of the division, which may have transferred to Justerbog for firing practices.
